

ALAMEDA CREEK WATERSHED CENTER IN SUNOL AND IMPROVEMENTS TO WATER TEMPLE GROUNDS

---

August 19, 2011

The following parameters have been discussed with SFPUC Management and will be used as we move forward with the planning efforts for the Alameda Creek Watershed Center in Sunol and improvements to the area surrounding the Sunol Water Temple.

- Three buildings constructed with restrooms included for the whole site.
- Grounds to be maintained include the Four Corners Entrance Gate, entry drive, area around Temple and Watershed Center, and picnic areas below and behind the Water Temple.
- Grounds and Watershed Center will be open expanded hours and on the weekends.
- The picnic area will be renovated and re-opened to the general public, provided that the grounds are supervised regularly by SFPUC staff or a designee.
- We anticipate limited use of community room by outside entities after hours (until 10 p.m.) to be staffed by a docent volunteer who is trained by the SFPUC, or an SFPUC staff person as a backup for these meetings.
- Trees will be planted to screen the (eventually) four large pipe rolling and shop facilities at the western border of the Sunol Yard.
- Management supports the Sunol Water Temple Preservation Association and their role as possible docents and request for work parties at the site. Staff will work with Water Supply and Treatment to facilitate their request for a work party in the near future at the Four Corners Entrance Gate.
